Food Service Manager
Food Service Supervisor

Valley Medical Center, a 417-bed teaching hospital, is establishing an in-house Food Services management team, a function previously operated by an outside firm on a contract basis. The hospital is searching for an innovative and dynamic Food Services Manager to plan, direct and coordinate the hospital's total food service operation. The Food Service Manager ($29,328-$35,620) is responsible for short and long range planning and policy and procedures development, as well as the overall management of approximately 70 employees. Requires 3-4 years of hospital food service management experience—at least two years in a department head capacity.

The Food Service Supervisor ($17,290-$21,038) is responsible for the daily production and distribution of patient and cafeteria food. Supervising duties include planning, assigning, reviewing and evaluatinq dietary personnel. Requires one year of supervisory experience in the preparation and service of meals in a hospital or other establishment serving at least 1,000 meals per day.
